

Aramark Building Community Day 09.17.2015

Aramark Building Community Day is dedicated to enriching and nourishing lives around the world. On this day, thousands of Aramark employees will volunteer as part of our ongoing commitment to build local communities. Together, we will dedicate our expertise and knowledge to inspire families to lead healthier lives and empower youth and adults to achieve lifelong success by helping to prepare them for the workforce.

Aramark and Martha O'Bryan Center

On Aramark Building Community Day we will create a hub for ongoing workforce education and training at Martha O'Bryan Center by:

- Transforming underutilized classrooms into work-friendly spaces for career workshops, practice interviews and other workforce activities.

- Hosting a series of career workshops for community members.
- Providing information on interviewing, how to retain a job, dressing for success, and financial literacy.
- Donating healthy foods and assembling healthy snack pack kits for daycare and after-school programs that support working parents.
- Throughout the year, we will return to the center to continue to provide workshops that will help those at the shelter live achieve success in the workplace and live independently.
