Today we unveiled Aramark EverSafe™, a multi-dimensional platform created to support the safe reopening and sustainable management of our client locations around the world.

Through a partnership with Philadelphia's Jefferson Health, this platform provides safety excellence that aims to help reduce the spread of COVID-19 and provide the most hygienic, safe environments for our employees, clients, customers and guests. Jefferson has been at the forefront of the pandemic, leading efforts to combat the challenges of this coronavirus, and will provide medical and scientific insights, data analysis, and exploration of solutions to promote safety in the workplace.

Developed in accordance with recommendations of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the World Health Organization (WHO) and other leading health organizations, EverSafe features five pillars:

- Good health and hygiene
- Appropriate spatial separation practices
- Enhanced cleaning, sanitation and disinfecting
- Available and emerging technology
- New service offerings and capabilities

“As the COVID-19 pandemic developed, we quickly mobilized and deployed our technical resources, partners and vendors to help support those in need,” said CEO John Zillmer, in a press release announcing EverSafe. “I am incredibly proud of our people and of this new holistic management platform, which demonstrates our ability to be nimble and innovative in order to meet the needs of our employees, clients, and customers.”
MEET JACK DONOVAN
PRESIDENT, HIGHER ED

While we manage the complexities of the current environment, we also continue to sharpen our organizational bench strength. Jack Donovan, a respected hospitality industry veteran, was recently appointed President of Higher Education, replacing Jeff Gilliam, who has assumed the role of President, Healthcare. Jack previously spent 18 years with Aramark, holding various leadership roles, including President of Higher Education and Group President of Education, Corrections, and Sports & Entertainment. He also served as EVP and Chief Growth Officer at Univar Corporation.

We're so proud of all the great work our teams are doing, and it's getting lots of media attention too. Here's a sampling of news stories from the past few days.

'WE CARE PACKAGES' FOR CHAMINADE U STUDENTS
Chaminade University, Honolulu reported in its student newsletter, The Silver Sword, that Aramark had teamed up with the university to provide care package meals for students still on campus.

PROVIDING FRUITS AND VEGETABLES FOR THOSE IN NEED
Hotel & Resturant Times recently ran an article about our work with Good Grub in Ireland:

As Ireland’s leading foodservice provider, we joined a wider effort of community support in Ireland by donating €8,000 (about $8,600) to local charity, Good Grub. Good Grub has taken on the important responsibility for the provision of nutritious fruit and vegetable parcels to the families of disadvantaged schoolchildren who have been missing out on in-school meals since COVID-19 restrictions came into force.

Frank Gleeson, President of Aramark Northern Europe, said “This partnership made perfect sense for everyone involved with Aramark in Ireland. Food is at the heart of what we do, and we believe the best way we can support communities during this difficult time is by leveraging our expertise and capabilities, along with help from our partners, to bring healthy and nutritious food to our neighbours who need it most. I, along with many colleagues, have been eager to support in as many ways as possible, and couldn’t be happier to aid the critical work of Good Grub in our local communities.”

MEALS THAT MATTER

NBC affiliate WHO TV in Des Moines, Iowa reported on Meals That Matter, a program that makes sure cancer patients have healthy meals during the pandemic.

The John Stoddard Cancer Center of Unity Health reached out to us with an idea of providing ready-to-eat meals for their patients to take home after receiving treatment. The intent of the project was to help reduce a patient’s exposure to COVID-19, possibly save them a trip to the store, and provide a convenient, nutritious meal for them after receiving exhausting treatment.

One radiation therapist commented that “It’s amazing how much our patients are loving these meals! They’re making so much more of an impact than I ever could have imagined! I’ve heard a lot of patients say that they look forward to these meals and it helps when they’re feeling too tired from treatments to cook dinner or go to the grocery store. I underestimated just how great this is for our patients! We are so thankful!” Watch the video describing the program here.

If you and your colleagues want to share the good things you’re doing during this challenging time, send your stories and photos to internalcommunications@aramark.com.

Catherine Maucher, Refreshments, says that while working from home has its struggles, it also has a lot of positives, like having her new grandbaby as an occasional co-worker. Augie was born April 15.

This is Nickie, who works with Sharon O'Sullivan, Uniforms. She likes to check on Sharon to make sure she's still on task.

Rocky, co-worker of Tracy Styf, Marketing, is SO over social distancing.

Munchkin, co-worker of Yajaira Hall, Leisure, proofreads a project before Yajaira sends it to her boss.
Now you can find state-by-state guidance on the latest executive orders, statements, policies and reopening guidance with this interactive map.

HELPFUL RESOURCES:

- New! Guidance By State – One of the challenges for our field operations – those that have continued and those that are preparing to reopen – is the patchwork array of state and municipal guidelines that govern our activities. It can be daunting to try and keep abreast of the latest executive orders, press releases and statements that dictate the precise circumstances under which we may serve our customers. Aramark’s legal and compliance teams work hard to keep up with these changing restrictions on a daily basis, and you can find detailed information for your state (and in some cases, your city or county) in the Guidance by State resource on our coronavirus site. Select your state from the clickable map and you'll find links to official statements, a summary of their impact on operations as well as on reopening, and more – everything from social distancing and facial coverings to temperature checks and signage. The website is updated daily, as is the Restriction Tracker that provides offline summaries by state.

- Wellbeats, our virtual fitness platform, is available free for ALL employees throughout the month of May! Click here for updated download instructions.
