

REIMAGINING WORKPLACE SUCCESS

The Workplace Experience Matters More Than Ever

Organizations are shifting focus from traditional efficiency metrics to what truly matters—the employee experience. Today, workplace strategy goes beyond operational efficiency; it's about creating engaging and productive environments where people feel supported, connected, and motivated to do their best work.

At Aramark, our teams bring that vision to life. Through Facilities Management, we ensure workplaces are clean, safe, and reliable by providing seamless maintenance and rapid response to keep spaces running smoothly. In addition, Refreshments delivers everyday amenities that make a difference, including energizing coffee, fresh food options, wellness-driven micromarkets, and thoughtful experiences. Together, we create workplace experiences that support employees throughout their day.

Key Insight

Only 23% of employees worldwide are engaged at work, but companies with high engagement see 21% higher profitability and 41% lower absenteeism.<sup>1</sup>

What's Driving Change?

Workplaces are evolving because employee engagement now drives business success. Changing work styles and higher expectations mean organizations must focus on creating environments that support and energize their people.

Turning Insight into Action

This shift demands workplace strategies that prioritize employee experience and well-being alongside operational goals. Creating environments that foster focus, connection, and energy is no longer optional—it's essential for driving engagement, retention, and performance.
