

Nick Elgin

Regional Vice President,
South and Mid-Atlantic Region

Nick Elgin has recently joined the Aramark Healthcare+ and now serves as Regional Vice President for the Mid-Atlantic and Southeast region.

Nick earned a bachelor's degree from Towson University in Business Management and in 1998 joined the Aramark Sports and Entertainment organization. After 16 years with Sports and Entertainment, Nick signed on with Aramark Destinations where he served as Vice President of Operations for our conference centers group.

Throughout his 25-year tenure with Aramark, Nick has held leadership roles in three lines of business overseeing food and beverage, facilities, lodging, and retail merchandise. Nick remains focused on using innovation, information, and technology to meet our clients' everchanging needs.

In addition to his time spent with Aramark, Nick works closely and partners with D.C. Central Kitchen and the Salvation Army in Washington, D.C. to help combat hunger. He lives in Maryland with his wife Kate and has two daughters in high school.
